

Tammuz Organization for Social Development finalizes a course for Computers in the province of Babylon

Tammuz Organization for Social Development concluded the third session in the education of computers set up by the Office of the organization in the province of Babylon. The course sessions began in June 20, 2010 and ended on the first of August 2010.

14 trainees from various ages participated in the sessions, where they received theoretical and practical lessons on the principles of computers, and during the session a lecture on human rights and democracy was presented including the concepts and the role of the Organization in promoting these concepts.

The session was concluded with a brief word from the Director of the course who wished the trainees to communicate with the organization and, in turn, the director sent the Organization thanks participant for the establishment of such courses.

It is worthwhile to mention that the organization is continuing to establish education courses and computer literacy in order to raise awareness and the abilities of Iraqi youth.
